NEWSLETTER 24TH NOVEMBER 2017

Note from Mr Holloway....

This week has seen some strange happenings at Bridgewater Park with frogs and lilly pads taking over the school some time overnight on Monday! This has launched a whole school writing project based on the book "Tuesday" by David Wiesner. The children are thoroughly enjoying exploring the book and making inferences and predictions as to the mysterious happenings! 10 children from across the school are also going to Litherland High School next Friday to present some of the work to children from the other primary schools within The Heath Family (NW) MAT.

The children have already started their rehearsals for the Christmas show this year and tickets will be available soon.

As always, please do come and speak to myself or any other member of staff regarding any concerns or queries that you may have.

Have a lovely weekend.

Mr Paul Holloway (Principal)
